Date and Venue

10/08/2023; Seminar Hall

Resource Person

Prof. P. Vijaya Kumar (Retired HoD, Dept. of English, Govt. College for Women, Thiruvananthapuram)

The Department of English organized this lecture as an induction programme for the newly enrolled BA students and a capacity building initiative for the second year BA students. In his 1-hour lecture Prof. Vijaya Kumar talked to the students about the relevance of the humanities discipline in this day and age. He also gave various tips to the student on improving their vocabulary and other language skills. He shared anecdotes from his teaching days to drive home his points about the importance of language learning and the transaction of the same in the classrooms. When students asked him questions about compiling a reading list, he gave various suggestions ranging from Somerset Maugham to Salman Rushdie. The Q & A session following the talk was peppered with queries from teachers about sustaining student interest in the era of attention economy, and students asking questions about multiple difficulties encountered in the process of language learning.
