Internal Quality Assurance Cell
TEACHERS' FEEDBACK REPORT

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of T.K.M. College of Arts and Science, in collaboration with various academic departments, conducts an annual evaluation of the syllabus through structured teacher feedback. This feedback is gathered through a carefully designed and validated questionnaire, with representative samples from all departments, ensuring a comprehensive review process. The primary objective of this feedback mechanism is to assess the academic rigor, relevance, and alignment of the syllabus with the evolving needs of both students and the academic community. The collected feedback critically examines the clarity of Programme and Course Outcomes (POs and COs), the specificity and realism of Learning Outcomes, and the coherence and logical progression of syllabus modules.

Additionally, the feedback process evaluates the adequacy of time allocation for each unit in relation to the prescribed curriculum framework, as well as the accessibility of curriculum-aligned resources such as textbooks and digital learning materials available in the institutional library. The focus is also placed on how well the syllabus facilitates experiential and activity-based learning, ensuring that teaching methods align with contemporary advancements in the discipline. Moreover, the feedback assesses the integration of ethical and value-based education within the syllabus and how effectively it fosters career readiness and employability. The alignment between the internal assessment framework and the curriculum objectives is another critical area under review.
